- ① Park Office
- ② Parking Lot/Restroom
- ③ Steep, rocky climb begins directly next to the parking lot behind the gazebo. One-way, going up.
- ④ At the bottom trail either loop around left and cross the creek to join the Grotpeter Trail, or go right, parallel to the creek to return to the road.
- ⑤ Grotpeter is now a single trail after the closure of Cardiac Hill in Dec. 2020.
- ⑥ Intersection with Mountain Ridge Trail at Ries Rd. Go straight to continue on Grotpeter, or bear right to return to Park Office.
- ⑦ Grotpeter continues. Bear right to return to road.

Castlewood State Park- Overview

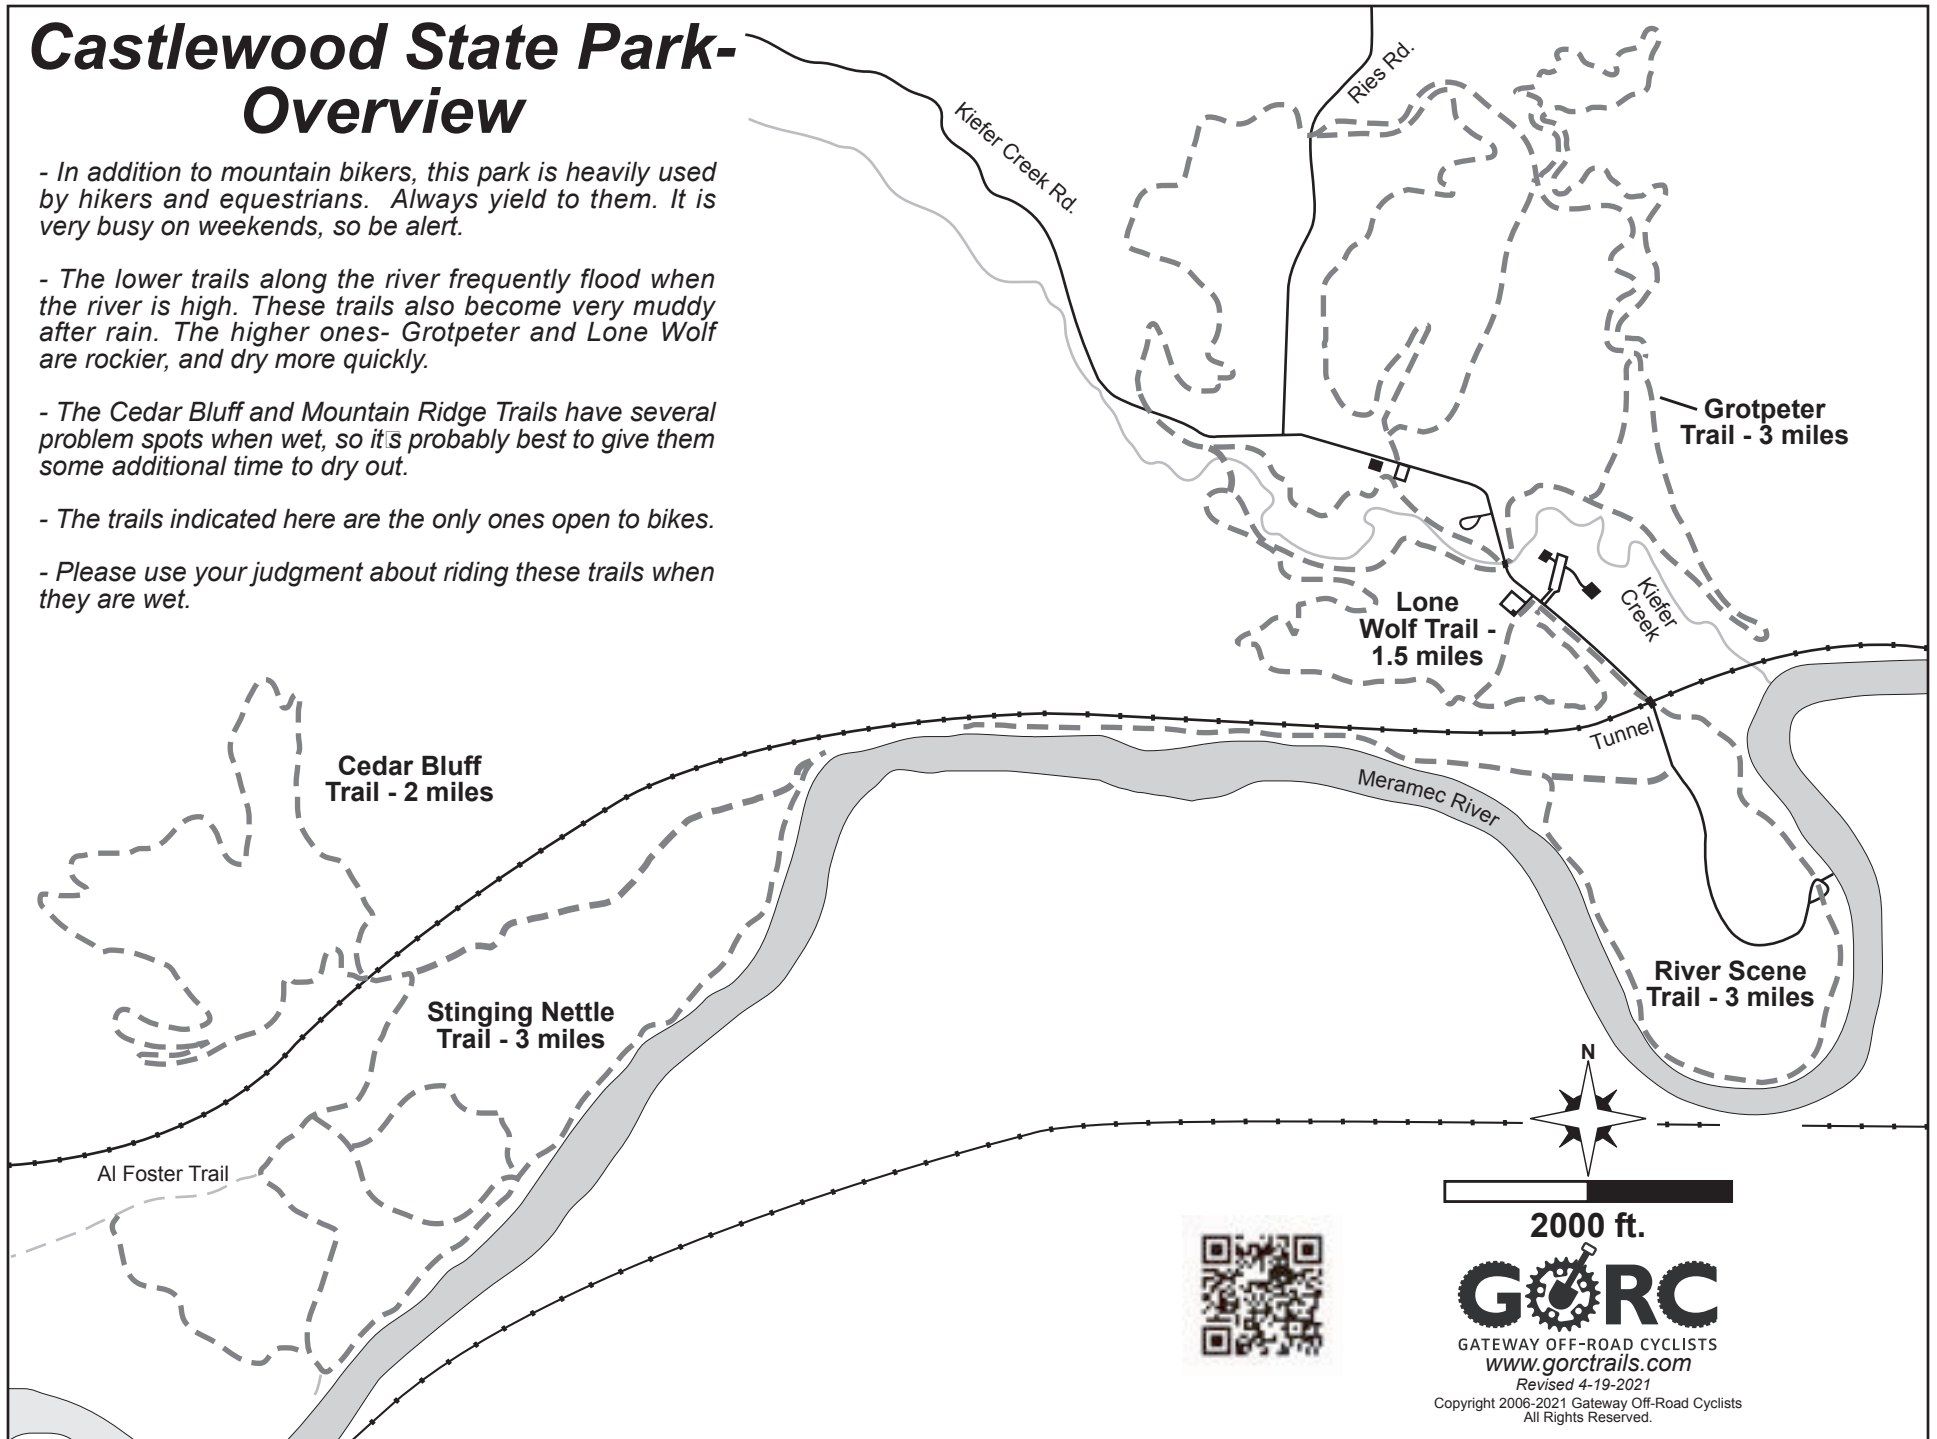

- In addition to mountain bikers, this park is heavily used by hikers and equestrians. Always yield to them. It is very busy on weekends, so be alert.

- The lower trails along the river frequently flood when the river is high. These trails also become very muddy after rain. The higher ones- Grotspeter and Lone Wolf are rockier, and dry more quickly.

- The Cedar Bluff and Mountain Ridge Trails have several problem spots when wet, so it's probably best to give them some additional time to dry out.

- The trails indicated here are the only ones open to bikes.

- Please use your judgment about riding these trails when they are wet.
